

We want to know more about Americans like you. Everyone, every age, every profession!

Why? So we can better understand your needs. Our clients/participants have always been our most valued commodity.

Because of this, we are excited to invite you to participate in a financial research study being conducted as a partnership between Qualified Plan Advisors and Kansas State University (KSU).

Participation is voluntary. However, as an incentive, the first 1,000 who complete the survey will be eligible for one of ten randomly-awarded $50 gift cards. Gift distribution will require some personal information, if you wish to make yourself eligible.

Although the survey allows you to skip questions, you may be disqualified for the gift incentive if you do not complete the questions. So we encourage you to complete the entire survey.

On average the survey should take about 15 minutes to complete. At the end of the survey, please click "submit form" so that your responses are saved.

Please be assured that this study is completely confidential. Your personal information, if you choose to provide it, will not be shared with KSU. Only the answers to the survey questions will be shared with KSU and your answers will not be shared with your employer.

You are still eligible to participate in the survey even if you wish to remain anonymous.
