

WELCOME TO THE 11TH ANNUAL QUALIFIED PLAN FIDUCIARY SUMMIT!

We've seen great evolution in how plan sponsors - like you - are thinking about their retirement plans. This evolution reflects a heightened understanding that your employees need more help now than ever before.

They need real solutions to drive real outcomes. Most are not saving enough, do not understand their investments, and will not be prepared to make their money last through a lengthy retirement. Yet that long-term scare may be overshadowed by the fear and uncertainty they face regarding their everyday finances.

Your employees need - and want - to become financially well. But are websites and cookie cutter materials the right solutions? Probably not. When it comes to their money, people want to deal with people. They want people to deliver information about your company's retirement programs, as well as everyday topics like budgeting, Social Security benefits, debt, and retirement income. They want to look someone in the eye, ask the tough questions, and receive personalized answers.

This Summit presents the opportunity to hear from industry experts who understand those needs and how to identify and implement real solutions. We look forward to exploring the difference between those who are merely outcomes-minded and those truly committed to delivering real outcomes.

Please join us on June 11th.
